BEREA, KY.

Berea College,
Sept. 20, 1918.

Dear grandpa and grandma.

I thought that probably you would be interested in hearing from me; and I have so many to write to I am going to write you through the columns of the dear old Sentinel.

I have been here only a few days, but have sure been busy. I reached Berea Tuesday morning at four o'clock. Had a very nice trip. On my way here I met several old students whom I knew and when I arrived here I met many more new ones. However we are all one united family

The teachers were all ready to greet us with the same big smile and hearty welcome back to school.

We have over a thousand enrolled and more coming in every day. I had the pleasure of assisting some new students in entering school. I was very much amused by the mistakes they made, but they soon learned just what they were to do, so all is going nicely now. You should see the students as they march into chapel on Sunday morning, for Sunday school it is quite different from the Sunday school there.

I presume you all are preparing for the revival at home next week. The chickens had better be shy, for really some people are very fond of it especially during a meeting.

I shall make my letter short this time but let me add that I am wishing you both the very best of health.

With plenty of love,
Your granddaughter,
Nellie Spurlock.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.—Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Theodor's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit. If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theodor's the original and genuine. It is

SHARE OUR SUGAR WITH THE ALLIES

British Get Two Pounds a Month.
French Pound and Half,
Italians One Pound.

GERMAN SUPPLY PLENTIFUL.

All Nations Permit Use of Sweetening for Home Preserving Purposes.

America's new sugar ration is equitable when compared with the sugar ration enforced by rigid governmental order in England, France and Italy, nations with which we are sharing sugar.

Each Allied nation—in the matter of sugar consumption—is sharing on nearly equal terms the hardships imposed by greatly altered conditions in the world sugar situation.

Formerly classed as a luxury, sugar is now a war time essential. The fair and just division of this essential is in the hands of the various Allied food controllers.

The United States Food Administration has asked this nation to observe a voluntary sugar ration of two pounds per person a month.

In the other countries at war with Germany sugar is one of the scarce articles on every menu—whether in the households of both rich and poor, or in the hotels.

England today has a sugar ration of two pounds per month per person. In France the ration is a pound and a half and in Italy it is one pound a month. And the people in allied countries are from two to three times as high as in America.

If you go to a hotel in England or France these days and order tea or coffee they serve absolutely no sugar with it. If you want sugar you must bring it with you.

In England it is allowable to use one-seventh of an ounce of sugar in the preparation of each luncheon. In France many persons carry little saccharine tablets about with them for use in hotels and in England rich and poor must take their sugar with them if they wish to have sweetened tea while visiting friends.

Before the war started France had 625,000 acres devoted to sugar production. By 1917 the French sugar acreage had decreased to 180,000 acres. Today the French man or woman with a sugar card has no assurance whatever that he or she will be able to actually buy sugar. To buy it, one must first find it.

Italy Has "State Sugar." Especially drastic regulations govern the use of sugar in Italy. Its manufacture, distribution and sale are closely controlled, and in part actually taken over by the state.

Saccharine is permitted to be sold and used as a substitute for sugar and the government manufactures a mixture of saccharine and sugar called "State Sugar," which is largely used.

German Sugar Ration Adequate. Germany, before the war, produced a great surplus of sugar and exported large quantities. Today the Germans have virtually gone out of the export business, but have plenty of cheap sugar for home use.

Wholesale prices prevalent in the Allied nations, according to information received by the United States Food Administration are as follows: England, 16 cents a pound; France, 12 cents; Italy, 26 cents.

While these high prices are being paid abroad the American wholesale price is being held at 7½ cents.

WHAT VICTORY MEANS

(Contributed by AGNES REPLIER to the National Security League's campaign of Patriotism Through Education.)

It would be well if every American would dispossess his mind of two popular and pleasing fallacies. First, that the United States took up arms as a knight errant to right the wrongs of France and Belgium. Second, that our impressive entrance into the war must inevitably, and of itself, decide the issue. We are fighting as a free people for our own safety, and we must fight hard and well, or suffer a shameful defeat. Germany denied us the seas because she thought we would accept our fate from her hands. She permits herself now a profound contempt for our army. Untrained men with defective ammunition are about as terrible in her eyes as prairie dogs would be in ours. She boasts happily that we will pay her the indemnity which is essential for her reconstruction.

Meanwhile, to make sure of our downfall, she plots treacherously in every state of the Union. Perhaps, if she wins the day, she will recompense such men as Senators Stone and La Follette, and Mayor Thompson of Chicago. More likely she will fling them on the scrap-heap. But loyal Americans may well understand that unless this nation puts forth all its strength, without reserve, without fatigue, without self-pity; unless we crush the traitors at home, and defeat the enemy abroad, a blither future awaits us. At best, we shall be humiliated, impoverished, and crippled in our foreign trade for many years to come. At worst, we shall see in our land the blazing homes, the ravished women, the butchered children, the unutterable shame and horror, which mark the wake of a German army of invasion.

Your Uncle Sam Must Have Walnut.

American Walnut has proven under a four-year test in this war to be the best used for the manufacture of Gun Stocks and Aeroplane Propellers.

Our government needs all this wood it can secure during the continuance of war. All owners of tree in Jackson county are earnestly petitioned to sell them to the firms who hold government contracts for gun stocks and propeller wood. Fight with your trees. Don't let them remain idle slackers.

The contractors have not as yet been able to secure enough raw material to supply our boys at the front. Owing to the large number of men our government is putting at the front, there is an increasing demand for Black Walnut.

Half a dozen trees will provide lumber to build a propeller blade and put a gun stock into the hand of each man in a platoon. The last of one machine in the air, or one platoon in the fight might turn the tide in a battle. Picture your son or the son of your neighbor holding on and fighting against desperate odds until the company or regiment your trees have armed can come to his relief. Now make this relief possible. Turn your trees loose. Wake up and get into the fight, and in this way you will be fighting for and with him as truly as if you stood beside him in the battle. You have no right to do anything else.

We have a government contract for both propeller material and gun stocks, and are urgently needing Walnut at the present to supply the boys at the front with rifles. The following prices will be paid for logs rafted on Cumberland river.

12 inch to 14 inch logs,	$25 per M. Rafted
15 " to 17 " logs,	$45 " " "
18 " to 19 " " "	$55 " " "
20 " to 23 " " "	$70 " " "
24 " and un	$80 " " "

I. L. Ray, soft drink manufacturer, of 230 N. 53rd St., Woodlawn, Birmingham, Ala., who had felt just like you and hundreds of others feel right now, tells of the wonderful results he has obtained from taking Vin Hepatica.
